Professional Summary

My name is John Montanye. I'm a Webster graduate, looking for work in web development. I currently work as a web developer for SyllogisTeks and own my own consulting company, Gateway IT Consulting, where I work as a web developer. I have technical experience developing with JavaScript, Angular, Bootstrap 4, SASS, HTML5, PHP, and SQL, to name a few. My passion is front-end technologies and user experiences. In my free time, I work on websites I've designed and developed, such as an online cookbook. I also enjoy building computers and making craft coffee at home.
